“...On November 27, 2007, a peace conference will be held in the city of Annapolis in the United States. The conference was initiated by Bush in an attempt to get the peace process in the Middle East back on track. During that convention, Palestinian and Jewish parties will directly meet in an attempt to reach some sort of agreement regarding the Palestinian-Israeli crisis. Experts say that a successful conference will reignite the negotiations between the two parties, especially after the promises made by the enemy of Allah Shimon Peres—along with the support of Egypt, Saudi Arabia, and Turkey. The media has been focusing on the above convention and its [potential] success. Many are anticipating the success of such a conference despite the fact that a recent Israeli intelligence report speculated that there was actually a zero percent chance for success... Russia has also tried to convince Syria to attend the convention and take advantage of this golden opportunity.”

“In the midst of this media circus, I ask of the American administration, how was your autumn season in Afghanistan? I doubt that such a group of bloodthirsty war criminals has the ability to achieve peace in the Middle East—Shimon Peres, who murdered the children of Qana (Lebanon); Ehud Olmert, who is the mastermind behind making Jerusalem completely Jewish... The same goes for Mahmud Abbas and Mohammed Dahlan, who work for the Jews and Christians against the Muslims... Not to mention that you will find our mujahideen brothers who attacked the warship U.S.S. Cole in secret Syrian prisons. At the Annapolis convention, the infidel leaders from around the world will stand united against the dangers threatening to consume their regimes because they failed to anticipate their defeat across the various jihad frontlines, and especially against the increasing power of the Islamic State of Iraq (ISI). The return of the Taliban Emirate is likewise only a matter of time...”

“There is no doubt that the main goal of this convention is to ensure the security of the Jewish State. In order to establish this goal, there must an implementation of internal security measures, as well as economic and social plans—plans that include adding more economic burdens on the Muslims so that they will be consumed with the management of daily concerns. Simultaneously, the role of the United Nations will be emphasized and they will become heavily involved through aid and development schemes inside Palestine. All this will make the Muslims more dependent on others and, in return, these organizations will act as the main door for various security and intelligence organizations to spot and monitor any signs of ‘extremism.’ This present situation is not exactly new to us, but we have seen a major escalation over the past year.”

“The Palestinians are about to face an important challenge to their freedom and the end of occupation. This peace convention will make them choose again either to fight or to surrender. The conniving Jews have managed to lower the hopes and ambitions of this Islamic nation with their economic embargo and by dividing the nation into Fatah and Hamas—and then by igniting internal battles between the two. And, now, the Jews are ready to be ‘generous’ and accept ‘coexistence’, while in return, the Palestinians must remain totally silent about their rights as an occupied nation, their armed resistance, the release of prisoners, the return of refugees, Jerusalem, and the Dome of the Rock. Since the beginning of the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, the Palestinians have fought all their battles against the Jews without taking into consideration principles of proper preparation and continuity. This is what has led them to their current miserable state. Throughout the many stages of the ‘Palestinian revolution’, the principle of monotheism has never been their main guiding principle. Moreover, the principle of loyalty to Allah was not clearly evidenced in the behavior of the various resistance movements, and this is what has caused them to turn against each other.”

“I address our people in Palestine regarding the upcoming Annapolis convention and ask them to follow the Quran and Sunnah. You shall find comfort after this crisis... you have tried all paths—communism, secularism, democracy, and the insincere implementation of Islamic law. The fact that an Islamic state was established in Iraq after only three years of its occupation—while, at the same time, Jerusalem has remained under occupation since 1967—is enough to prove our point regarding the ineffectiveness of the above-mentioned path.”

“The infidel leaders in the Middle East will gather to declare war against the Muslims and to cleanse the desire for jihad from each and every believer. Each faction will muster its magicians and priests to ensure the safety of the Jewish state... A quick look at history and past experiences will show us that silence about such a peace conference will only result in a major massacre in the Middle East. We shall try to understand the fate of such conferences—along with the fates of those attending them—by studying past, similar events...”

“For centuries, humanity has faced oppression inflicted by various human beings for various reasons and motives. Individuals—regardless of their religious orientation—have convinced others to accept the system of global oppression via a simple concept... the concept of a ‘Metropolis.’ Eventually, ‘metropolis’ became a commonly used expression of ideology. The term ‘Metropolis’ has had many different names in the past—with its current name being the most suitable to our time and era... All types of metropolises have had the same fate... complete disappearance.”

“...A metropolis, at essence, is simply a ‘regime’—an oppressive, controlling, and draconian one—that controls a group of people under rules and guidelines set by those who anointed themselves with the right to enslave people... You can find a metropolis in any city ruled by poverty and chaos and maintained by a ruling power that deploys its police and army to prevent any anti-government rioting... In our modern time, we all witnessed the collapse of Manhattan’s metropolis that symbolized oppression and corruption and that is precisely why the American rulers were filled with such endless anger when they saw it collapse. Allah has paid back all the Muslims who prepared and executed that attack and has chosen them to lead his battle against evil. The countdown to the end of the 21st century era of oppression has begun and the global infidels and apostates will be defeated. For this, and many other reasons, the owners of that collapsed metropolis (the Jews) could not handle the fact that it was totally and completely a Muslim operation. Therefore, they have been busy using their media outlets around the entire world (including Al-Jazeera) to spread lies about various 9/11 conspiracy theories.”

“...Many people, especially Muslims, condemned the attack and obeyed America and its true masters (the Jews). Soon, they began chanting, ‘now American has a legitimate reason to attack us... this is what the mujahideen have brought up on us.’ ...Yet, the truth was—at that exact moment—America was most vulnerable and it could have been easily defeated if only Muslims had stood united against it. I warn you not to fall for this intellectual trap... to learn a better means of saving oneself, you should refer to the lecture of Shaykh Abu Sulaiman al-Utaibi, a former Shariah judge from the Islamic State of Iraq (ISI)... The decision to target the World Trade Center during the raids was a wise one because it made other weaker regimes tremble, run, and hide. Conversely, it also caused others to become more aggressive with America after they recognized its imminent defeat... Muslims [who] failed to support the mujahideen after the attack... should [also] realize that America was left with only a few men protecting its homeland...”

“Dubai is another example of a metropolis. It is merely another state in the United States, a base for information and intelligence-gathering, a technological and media center, and a center of corruption. The Jews can be found there in the same way they can be found in Tel-Aviv... We hope they will learn a lesson and change before ‘Burj al-Arab’ becomes ‘Metropolis al-Arab’...”

“The infidels are in denial about the well-known fate of the World Trade Center... We thank Allah for enabling Muslims to destroy it. Humanity will set itself free from slavery and oppressive regimes only through fighting in jihad. The Annapolis conference will not save the Metropolis because jihad will forever be instilled in our hearts.”
